Better Access to Healthcare

Each year over 500,000 women die during childbirth worldwide. Most of them could be saved if brought in time to a healthcare center.

Bicycle ambulances have proven to be an efficient and appropriate form of transport for up to a 20km radius in rural Uganda, Ghana and South Africa.

Bicycle ambulances can save lives by providing Africans with much-needed access to doctors. With the aid of local partner organizations, ITDP Europe has helped to deliver over 300 bicycle ambulances to Africa.

They last 5 times longer than car ambulances, can be used on small paths, and are easily maintained locally.

Furthermore, you can buy 200 bicycle ambulances for the price of 1 car ambulance.

Support ITDP Europe and help save lives in Africa today.
